

A series of social communities commenting on how they commune.

I will now proceed into describing a series of actions I was permitted to do in order to succeed at my each and every task towards a lifelong qualification.

I am staring at these credentials I've hung on the board of my bored mind. They remind me of my ability to stand on my own two foot, as I walk hand-in-hand with my bosses two foot.

My boss is my coach and my couch will see me to the olympics: I seek to jump this bridge as my next trial in this eternal chapter. I am driven towards value not pride, so I value each thing I buy in order to drive my submissive solitude to the sty.

I am jolly-gagging; I gag on my jolly life -- in no perversion do I see these ties.
