

As I text them, who stands as me, to think about me, I think about me while I tell them to think about me.

And as they're thinking about me, I record myself thinking about me while I'm thinking about me, and then I watch myself thinking about me thinking about me as I think about me.

Suddenly they text me back, as they're thinking about me thinking about me, and I me-stake their name as mine, suddenly stunned by how their name stood as mine.
